

TERMINAL FOR POLICE SEARCH THIS CITY IS DECIDED FOR CHECK FORGER

That Ogden is to have a terminal station where parcel post matter will be sorted and packed for Utah, Idaho, Nevada and in fact for all points out of Ogden was definitely decided last night upon the arrival of Superintendent Edward McGrath and Chief Clerk Edward Pettibone of the eighth division of the railway mail service. The two arrived from San Francisco at 5:45 o'clock.

A conference is being held this afternoon between the two officials and Fred J. Kiesel, following which it is almost certain that the big room in the Kiesel hotel will be leased by the government for the terminal station. The location was but one of a number on which the service had secured options, but the one in question is deemed the most fitting. It is 70 feet long by 30 feet wide and is lighted in the rear as well as the front, leaving the two side walls against which sections for the sorting of parcels can be constructed.

By September 1 it is expected that the station will be in operation, with three clerks as a preliminary force. The three will be assisted by transfer clerks now stationed at the union depot, but as the parcel business increases others will be added. Local railway mail service officials believe that in a year from now twelve clerks will be needed to do the work.

It is planned at the present time to take an experienced mail clerk from the railway service and place him in charge of the station, while the clerk will be replaced on the road by a substitute.

After the station is in operation all parcel post matter now worked on the trains will be sorted and packed in the local station. The increase in mail matter due to the inauguration of the parcel post system has made such stations necessary, as the limited floor space of a railway postoffice car makes it difficult for the clerks to work the large number of sacks of such matter received. At the local station the parcels will all be sorted into sacks for stations along the roads, and it will not be necessary for the clerks to handle them except to deliver the sacks at destination.

Mr. McGrath and Mr. Pettibone will be the guests of the Weber club at a reception at 7 o'clock this evening in the club rooms. They will then be taken on an automobile trip through the canyon, to return to the Hermitage, where dinner will be served.

MAJOR WAITE TO BE PRESENT

Major Waite of Denver, the Young People's secretary of the Salvation Army, will conduct services at the Salvation Army hall, No. 255 Twenty-fifth street, at 8 p. m. Friday.

A program will be rendered by the children of the Sunday school and a good time is promised.

GET DRUNK IN ZION, JAILED IN OGDEN

To get drunk in Salt Lake yesterday and get arrested in Ogden later in the evening was the experience of I. A. Dahlquist and A. J. O'Connor, two Salt Lake young men who claim to have been employed in the city engineer's office. The experience cost them $5 each. They told Judge W. H. Reeder this morning that they had done nothing except get drunk in Salt Lake, get on a Bamberger car to be awakened in Ogden and then a ride to the police station in an automobile.

The arresting officer, however, stated that one of the two had become sick during the trip and had made things disagreeable in the car as a result.

John King, the fellow who had spent $14 in Ogden to get drunk and told the judge yesterday that he would have to walk to his home in Honeyville, was in court this morning with a charge of begging against him. He explained that walking appeared too hard so he had tried to beg railroad fare. The judge gave him five days.

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS ON PAVING

The city board of commissioners this morning authorized the city engineer to advertise for bids for the concrete paving of Fowler avenue, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets, and also for the paving of Twenty-fifth street from Washington to Harrison avenue. The material for the Twenty-fifth street paving has not been determined and the bidders will be asked to make estimates on more than one kind of paving.

Clerk I. N. Fulton of the municipal court reported that in the month of July he collected in fines and forfeitures and other fees the sum of $692.25.

The application for a rooming house license by Charles Deru was granted on the recommendation of Commissioner T. Samuel Browning, superintendent of the department of public safety. Commissioner Browning recommended to the board that property owners in the vicinity of Second and Fourth streets east of Washington avenue, be required to clear certain vacant lots of June grass, so as to avoid grass fires which are threatened at this time of year. The recommendation was approved.

William Shewar was refunded $10 money paid on a showing gallery license that was not used.

Three of the blank checks stolen Monday from H. W. Gwilliams of the Utah and Oregon Lumber company have appeared at the First National bank with the forged signature of Gwilliams signed for various amounts and with nine more checks missing, the police, Gwilliams, and the bank officials are holding their breath waiting for others to appear.

That the heavy set stranger who ordered the bill of lumber on Monday at the Utah and Oregon Lumber yard and left in exchange a bad check and whose disappearance was followed by an investigation, which disclosed that twelve blank checks were missing from the book of the Gwilliams Livestock company, is a dangerous criminal appears apparent from later developments.

Harry Reinshriber, manager of the National Outfitting company, 2344 Washington avenue, was the first victim, and the smooth stranger, who gave him a check to which the name of Gwilliams had been forged, answered the description furnished to the police by the lumberman. Reinshriber learned the check was bad after he had heard the Standard story yesterday and had called upon the First National bank.

Two checks were received at the First National bank from Salt Lake today. One was for $45.50 and was cashed by the Morrison-Merrill Lumber company. The other was for $21.60 and was cashed by the Bennett Paint & Glass company.

Although the police have not received details of the forger's method in Salt Lake, it is believed that he followed the same plan as worked on the National store. He ordered a bill of goods from each store and presented checks in payment, taking the change and ordering the goods delivered at fictitious numbers.

The stranger appeared at Reinshriber's just at closing time Tuesday and ordered a woman's tailored suit at the price of $17.50. He presented a check for $23.50, supposedly signed by H. W. Gwilliams and made out to George Martin. Ordering the suit sent to 2022 Adams avenue, he pocketed the change, $4.10, and left leisurely.

The suit was delivered to the home of C. Martin, city road supervisor, who was much surprised to receive it, but when the check was found to be no good, the suit was secured.

The man had taken the precaution to get a name that would agree with the address to avoid even the slightest suspicion.

Believing that they have a dangerous man with whom to deal, the description of the chubby stranger has been wired to surrounding cities by the police.

The Walkover Shoe store parted with $11.15 as a result of the smooth stranger's activity in that business house. The peculiar part of the business transacted there Tuesday night is that the manager, A. Anderson, recognized the forger as a man he had met before. Until the check was found to be bad, the manager did not remember that the stranger was the fellow who had duped him with a forged check several years ago.

Within a few minutes before the National Outfitting store was selected as a victim, the big fellow entered the Walkover store and saluted the manager pleasantly. He asked to look at some shoes and finally selected one of the finest pairs that the store had in stock. Then he asked for a pair for his wife and finally a pair for his son.

"I suppose you know Gwilliams of the Livestock company on Twenty-fourth street?" asked the stranger. The clerk did and so the pleasant purchaser tendered him a check for $21.60, made out as the others to George Martin and signed by G. W. Gwilliams. When the customer endorsed the check, he added the address, 2022 Adams avenue. Upon receiving the change after the shoes were paid for, he asked if his wife could exchange the shoes providing they did not suit her. When told that the store would be only too glad to make the exchange, the stranger said goodbye and left.

The check was found to be bad this morning when a detective came to the store with a list of the blank check numbers.

Later information from Salt Lake is to the effect that the stranger ordered a bill of lumber sent to Centerville when he presented the check at the Morrison-Merrill lumber yard.

Sheriff DeVine received information to the effect that the lumber firm knows the man. The police of both cities believe the fellow has departed for the coast.

Society

HOGGE-MOORE. M. T. Moore and Annie Hogge, both of this city, were quietly married in Salt Lake yesterday. Both have many friends who extend hearty congratulations.

BUSY BEE SEWING CLUB. Miss Ruth Rathbun very delightfully entertained the members of the Busy Bee Sewing club yesterday afternoon at her home, 365 Twenty-eighth street.

The young ladies brought their embroidery. Various games were enjoyed. The most delightful being the peanut hunt, at which Miss June Gray won first prize.

In the dining room dainty refreshments were served by the little hostess. Pink and green crepe paper and flowers adorned the table. Dainty little favors were given the following members of the club: Misses June Geiger, Aileen Gray, June Gray, Leon Revor. Miss Ruth May was a guest of honor.

LITERARY SOCIETY. The ladies of the Literary society have issued a neat and attractive booklet containing a program of the year's work. Eleven subjects on China and Japan will be studied and discussed by the twenty-one members.
